

THE LIMITS OF LANGUAGE:
A Comparative Study of Kant, Wittgenstein, and Lao Tzu

*Dr. Aimin Shen
Hanover College*

Contribution to Scholarship:

The book demonstrates, by principle of logic, that there is something that cannot be said through the logical analysis of language itself. Hence, mysticism arises as a matter of a logical necessity. The thoughts of Lao Tzu, Chuang Tzu, Kant and Wittgenstein are explored in this vein to bring out the logical and mystical elements in each.

From the Foreword:

“Venturing across various related disciplines – comparative philosophy, ontology, logic, even theology – [the author] seeks those necessary conditions that make science and rational inquiry possible.”

*-Prof. John M. Thompson
Christopher Newport University*

From a Peer Review:

“This is an impressive work that challenges the reader to see relationships between the Taoist mystical tradition and some central conceptions in Western philosophy. I recommend it highly.”

*-Prof. Emer. David Clarke,
Southern Illinois University at Carbondale*
